

Save time and money at urgent care centers

Always dial 911 or go to the nearest hospital if your life or health are in serious danger.

But if you need care after hours and your health or life are not at risk, consider going to an urgent care center in your Aetna Whole Health<sup>SM</sup> network.

They're a great option when you can't go to your regular doctor's office. Or when you have a non-life-threatening emergency. Just walk in and take care of infections, broken bones, small burns and more.

Urgent care centers often have extended and weekend hours and may even be open on holidays. That's more convenient and costs less than a trip to the emergency room.
